Bits O' Talk

by Fay Boyce

Jim Gardiner of Redford Township and the Misses Margaret and Leona Gardiner of Lansing spent the Labor Day weekend with their brother and family, the Vernon Gardiners. Jerry Boehmke of Southfield was a guest of Mike Gardiner. Cousins Bill and Jeannie Rokos of Traverse City were over on Labor Day and went up to the Mackinac Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Perry are proud to announce that word was received from their son, Lawrence, of a grandson named Jason Jon-Paul born September 5th at 12:36 a.m., weighing 9 lbs. 5 ozs. in Providence, Rhode Island.

Charles Russell of Berrien Springs, who was at Camp AuSable on Lake Shellenbarger along with many others, stopped on the tree devastation suffered there during the September 4th storm. Those in camp pitched in with chain saws and got the immediate area of the campground cleaned up somewhat. But there is still much work to be done.

Guests the last week of August and over the Labor Day weekend of Mr. and Mrs. William LaRush were Mr. and Mrs. Skip Christy, son Ricky and daughter Linda Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Meckesser, son Mike and Sharon Walker, all of Berkley; Richard Meckesser and Bill Smith of Brighton and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Balow of Hamtramck.

The Keyport Clinic is in the process of expanding their present facilities to include the space formerly occupied by the dental clinic. The move will provide more consultation and examining rooms than are now available.

Mrs. Mary Rasmussen and four children and one grandchild, all of Lansing, spent the weekend before last visiting her mother-in-law, Else Andersen. Else's granddaughter, Kathy Rasmussen, came back up and spent the week with her grandmother, returning home on Saturday morning.

Mrs. W. O. Hildebrand of Lake Margrethe, underwent surgery at St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw, the first of last week. Mrs. Charles Kroll drove her to Saginaw. Her friend, Miss Janet Field of Lansing picked her up in Saginaw last Thursday and brought her home to Lake Margrethe. Janet is remaining for a visit.

Jim and Phyllis Bond, daughter Julie, and her friend, Mary Swarthout of Lansing, spent the week before Labor Day at their cabin on the Manistee River.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller and children, Ron and Susie, of Oscoda, spent Labor Day weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond on the Manistee. All got up bright and early on Labor Day, packed a lunch and headed for the Mackinaw Bridge. The Millers bought tickets to allow them to walk the bridge, also bus tickets to take them across to start the walk. Upon reaching the other side of the bridge, they, as well as many others, were informed it was too late for them to walk. They had to buy bus tickets for the return trip. Nor was anyone refunded their money for the walk they weren't allowed to take. Ronnie and Susie were very disappointed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kinsora and family of St. Clair Shores, left September 3rd, after spending two weeks visiting Mrs. Ruby Reetz. Her grandson, Robert J. Chappel, who spent the summer here, has returned to Ferris in Big Rapids for his senior year.

Sweet Adelines

Mid-Mitten Chapter met Wednesday, September 7th, for rehearsal at the Roscommon High School Choral Room. It is such a terrific place to rehearse in... we are very fortunate and appreciate being able to use this school facility.

The Sweet Adeline members are busy selling ads for our show program and really appreciate the businessmen and women who are buying ads. As we said before, without your support we could not survive.

You can depend on us being your biggest boosters — each and every one of you who so graciously purchased ads. We "sing-cerely" thank you.

On September 23, 24, 25 the Regional Meeting will be held at the Pinestead Reef in Traverse City. The chorus is busy learning some beautiful music for our show... November 11th and 12th... "Welcome To Our World." Remember girls, only 9 rehearsals until show time.

From Our Corner...

The only good thing about this week from last is that we had a Monday in this one... even though we spent the bigger part of the day in Mt. Pleasant.

The only bad thing about this week is that we are groping to fill our corner, and find ourself without an excuse like we had last week.

With a little luck we thought we could come up with a couple tidbits, but the first one that came to mind was how come the lights on main street had been left on day and night. We found out Tuesday morning and had to scratch a paragraph leveled at Consumers' Power.

The explanation from the company was that they have been checking on the service and it was easier to leave them on than turning on and off, plus it hasn't cost the city extra, the source stated.

The lights are off now.

Word seems to be getting around that the only way you get your name in our corner is to be nice to the old fella... in part it is true, especially if you send cake home to us following a Monday night golf party. Joyce Kolka listened to Rhea Gierke that night. The German sweet chocolate was delicious.

We have found ourselves in a peculiar situation for the past two and a half weeks.

Our corner is meant to be the editorial voice of the Avalanche concerning topics of a county-wide interest and not for personal vendettas... and that includes yours truly.

Have a nice weekend... we know we'll forget our problems — we'll be attending a family reunion in Gaylord with our Traverse City clan.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Grayling Storm

The recent Sunday storm has created a common subject of conversation for all of us for a few days. Most of us were unaware of the approaching winds until they hit. With electricity out, all of us had a sudden change in lifestyle. As some of us met by lantern light to pray, sing praises to God and study His Word together, there was a greater appreciation of God's care and more concern for our community.

Some may question why God permitted a storm to go through our small Grayling area?

Wouldn't it have been easy for God to direct the storm into an uninhabited forest? It seems like only yesterday when the tornado went through Frederic. Why? God will someday answer all these questions.

Our first reaction to the storm is praise to God for the lives spared. With hundreds and hundreds of trees uprooted, it is only to God's praise for His mercy and grace that we were spared.

All of us saw some beautiful trees which had braved decades of time and many storms, downed in a moment. One minute their stately branches reaching majestically towards the heavens, the next minute death and defeat exposing the weaknesses of their massive root systems.

Our lives are much like the trees. We often appear so self-sufficient. We believe everything is under control. We are unaware of the storms of life which often catch us at an unguarded moment. One day we are strong, then sickness, accident, death, divorce, broken friendships, rebellious children and a dozen other things hit with the fury and trauma of emotional tornadoes, and down we go. The failure of our spiritual and emotional roots are exposed for all to see.

I recently talked to a young grieving father in Indiana who had just buried his 12 year old son following a motorcycle accident. His entire outlook on life has changed. He has started reading his Bible and going to Church with the rest of his family. He informed me that everyday living has taken on a new meaning. He is developing a whole new set of values and goals in life. The Christian testimony of his departed son is still producing fruit in the remaining family.

Jesus said: "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of His Father with the holy angels." Mark 8:36-38.

Things like the Grayling storm give us a blessed opportunity to examine our life values in light of eternity. "Only one life 'twill soon be passed, only what's done for Christ will last." (adv.) Pastor Barnett

Alumni News

by Clara Sorenson

We had a long letter from East Tawas from Grace Woodburn, '33. She has retired from teaching after 37 years. A lot of that time was with handicapped children.

Someone asked me about how many superintendents we have in the system. Just for the record, we have one, Fraser Dean. We have four principals, Kent Reynolds, High School; Dale Nicholas, Middle School; Melvin Nunn, Elementary School and David Hawkins, Frederic Elementary School.

Seventy years ago, Elizabeth Salling Maltstrup, '07, was the only graduate. She lives in Birmingham with her daughter. She had three sisters who are also G.H.S. Alumni. They are Marion Salling Rumsey, '11, (who was my music teacher), Elsie Salling Bromwell, '14, and Louise Salling Trudeau, '21. Our oldest known Alumna, Ethel Hoyt Riley, '04 is in a Nursing Home in Hartou Springs, MI. 49740. (E.C.M.C.F. #108, 750 E. Main St.).

Music has been acquired for our dancing pleasure, so we are just about set for another shining night for G.H.S. Alumni, October 15. Annual letters are in the mail this week, a bit late, and we won't go into reasons, only that some addresses were not completed and some of you will not get yours. Watch this column for information.

A family get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Barber, Sr. Sunday. Spending the day with their parents were Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Barber, Jr. and family of Clio, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barber and family of Davison, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Barber and family of Birch Run, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barber of Big Rapids. A special guest was Edward Barber, Elwood's brother, from Chicago, who is spending two weeks visiting relatives and friends in the area. A potluck dinner was enjoyed.

Wenger - Knipe Speak Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Wenger of Higgins Lake Shores announce the marriage of their daughter, Jayne Irene to Timothy W. Knipe, Jr., son of Mrs. Allen Salvesen of Boca Raton, Florida and Mr. Timothy W. Knipe of New York City.

The wedding took place at the Wenger's waterfront home on Higgins Lake at four o'clock on August 27th. The reception followed immediately on their front lawn. The bride wore an off-the-shoulder, antique, white lace blouse with matching long skirt, and carried a small cascade spray of ivy with a single white gardenia. She chose for her maid of honor, her best friend, Debra Jacobson of Boston, Massachusetts. Her bridesmaids were her sisters, Beth Smith, Mary Townsend, Gina Wenger and the sister of the groom, Anna Knipe. They were dressed in brightly colored sun dresses and all carried a single yellow Fuji mum.

The groom chose his life long friend, Spencer Compton of New York City for his best man. His other attendants were Ken Smith, Joe Townsend, Steve Knipe and Mark Amato.

The bride was escorted down the staircase and given away by her father, The Rev. William Fraser officiated. The bride and groom spoke their own vows. The newlyweds took a short camping trip through the Upper Peninsula and will be leaving soon for a six month stay in Guatemala after which they will be living in New York City.

Many out of town guests attended from Grand Haven, Harbor Springs, New York, Florida and Massachusetts.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted on August 26, by Mrs. Allen Salvesen and Mr. T. Knipe, the mother and father of the groom, at the Lyon Township Hall on Higgins Lake.

State Seeking Federal Payoff For 'Big Mac'

The State Highway Commission has endorsed Gov. William G. Milliken's proposal to seek $44 million in federal highway funds to retire bonds that financed construction of the Mackinac Bridge.

The Commission voted to support the Governor's effort to obtain the funds in the 1978 Federal Aid Highway Act.

If Congress approves the grant, auto fares on the bridge linking Michigan's two peninsulas could be reduced from $1.50 to 50 cents and truck fares from the $1.50 to $6 range to the $1 and $3 range. All the estimated $1.7 million to $2 million annual revenue would be used solely for bridge operation and maintenance.

"Lower fares would increase travel on the bridge and stimulate the economy of the entire region, including the tourist industry," said the Commission Chairman, Peter B. Fletcher, of Ypsilanti. "We should exert every effort to persuade Congress to approve this funding."

Under the Governor's proposal, Congress would take the bridge into the Interstate free-way system, making it eligible for 30 per cent federal funding. The Mackinac Bridge was built for $99.8 million and was opened to traffic Nov. 1, 1957. Bonded indebtedness has been reduced to approximately $43 million, with the last of the bonds now scheduled to be paid off by 1985.

Stop to think what the word "independent" means. In insurance, it means an agent who works for the insured, and not for the insurance company. When you come right down to it, that one word can mean an awful lot. When considering insurance, consider the Independent Agent. He serves YOU First.

New Interest In Farming In Area

by Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

There is more interest in farming noted by agency people assembled at an Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service program planning meeting held September 7th at the Soil Conservation Service office in Roscommon. People who have acreage are seeking information about growing crops especially hay and pasture for horses.

Farming this year was a disaster in that there was not enough rain to grow much hay and pasture. Although the wheat crop wasn't bad, it was much better the world over, therefore the price dropped out of the market. The U.S. Department of Agriculture is already making plans to cut the acreage of wheat, if not for next year certainly by the harvest year of 1979.

Wheat producers look for insect disease and lodging resistance and good test weight in the wheat they want to plant.

Dr. Larry Copeland, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension crop specialist, says there are good varieties of wheat available for planting this fall.

Tecumseh, released by MSU in 1975, is one of the highest yielders of the soft white wheat class (52.2 bushels per acre, in MSU tests). This compares to a 50.2 bushel average for all other varieties. It has excellent winterkill resistance.

Tecumseh grows to 36 inches, is resistant to Hessian fly races A and C, leaf rust, and to yellow spindle streak mosaic virus.

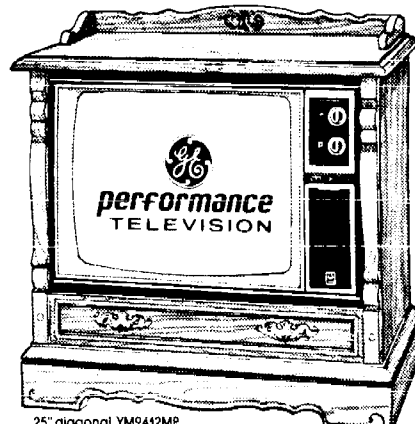

Yorkstar, is another high yielder, but has less winter hardiness and a lower test weight than other varieties. It has a test weight of 57 pounds per bushel, and very good lodging resistance; but is susceptible to leaf rust and Hessian fly damage.

Wheat producers generally wait until after the Hessian free fly date for planting wheat, in this area the date is September 9.

Golf News

The Youth Golf League has come to the end of the season. They gave awards for three flights. Flight A was won by Scott Hamlin, Flight B by Jim Harland and Flight C by Kevin Dean. They had lunch and the league gave Mr. Gothro and Mr. Sidwell a gift in appreciation for their time spent this summer.

Editor's Mailbox

September 10, 1977
Crawford County Avalanche
Michigan Avenue
Grayling, Michigan
Dear Whitey:

I would like to express my thanks and appreciation to all of the concerned and involved people who have been working for the Youth Services Pick-Up and Clean Up of our county roads and rivers.

Through your combined efforts you have accomplished a feat that gives testimony to our own laziness. Laziness being the discarding of refuse with the thought, or lack of thought in mind, that others will clean up after you.

These people, who have face-lifted our roads and rivers deserve a great amount of credit for what they have accomplished. I think the greatest and best reward for them would be an end to the littering or perhaps the enforcement of our existing littering laws.

The people who are with Youth Services have accumulated 7,000 plus bags of litter - and the littering continues - behind them. This again - should be testimony to our laziness.

You, the people who have worked on the pick-up and clean-up should be the first to express your individual opinions as to the near futility of this effort. If there is not more public awareness of this malady it will continue. Help this problem by expressing your opinions - either verbally - or in print.

Doug Nielsen

er usually cause thunderstorms and only rarely tornados) was not very great. Another reason was that the low pressure system was neither really low and was not stationary.

Taylor said that besides the scientific proof was the aerial examination done by him of the damage, which also convinced him this area suffered a severe storm with 80 mph winds, but no tornado.

"To begin with, if the tornado had followed the path that the storm did through Grayling, it would have been wiped out. The city would no longer exist. This storm as we determined from our aerial inspection damaged an area too large for a tornado. It travelled from the Northwest to the Southeast and tornados usually move from Southwest to Northeast. All the damage and the toppled trees were pretty well laying in the same direction. Basically a tornado follows a straight path, but when it hits the ground it usually smashes everything in sight, except some very solid buildings. It will not just knock trees over, it will rip up every one and it will tear the trees and the limbs to pieces. The trees will end up lying in every direction. We saw one stand of jackpines of over 40 acres that was laid over as clean as if a giant hay mower pulled by a huge tractor had gone along and cut them down.

Taylor said the reports of waterspouts on the lakes and dust devils were a common occurrence. He refused to accept the report that the river had gone dry during the storm and said it was not possible.

Taylor also clarified the many reports of rainfall that conflicted with the official estimate of 1.17 inches made by the Department of Natural Resources. He said the reports of up to 11 inches of water in the downtown area and 6 inches at the airport were true, but he qualified his remarks.

He did not dispute the fact that water levels had gotten that high but explained it was accumulated water and not rainfall levels. "It is very easy to see in the downtown area where there is so much pavement and no bare ground for the water to soak into, that the water is going to pile up faster than it can run off. In the same way at the airport where there are huge runways slanting toward the hangar a tremendous amount of water would build up in a short period of time and you could easily get build-ups of six inches of water," he said. "Or have it spill over the curbs downtown."

"The really fantastic thing about this whole incident is the absence of injuries and the wonderful way that everyone worked together during and after the storm. All local units including the sheriff, city police, county and city departments worked very hard and very well together. I cannot thank them enough for our department or on behalf of the citizens of this community. In any disaster such as this, what happens after the initial storm can have as much negative effect as the damage caused during the storm. Especially if trapped persons are not freed or older persons are not taken care of, and if services are not restored. Everyone has met this emergency head on and done a wonderful job and I am very grateful," concluded Taylor.

New Books At The Library

Memorials donated to the Crawford County Library recently have been "Chase the Wind" by Thompson for John Solomonson; "Special People" by Eisenhower for Herman Bischoff; "The Queen and Lord M" by Plaidy for Dr. Robert Libke; and "Know your Antiques" by Kovel for Alfred Hanson. The above titles were presented by Corneille (Paul) Thompson and Clyde Borchers. "The New Walt Disney Treasury" by Disney was given by Mr. and Mrs. Grant Thompson for Diamanta Thompson.

Lois Ford gave "The camera never blinks" by Dan Rather; five books were given by Trout Unlimited and Matilda Bishop donated several books on Japan from her personal library. "Fishing in America" by Waterman was presented by Sam Gust.

Books from the best seller list now at the library are "Raise the Titanic" by Cussler; "The crash of '79" by Erdman; "Thorn Birds" by McCullough; "Dynasty" by Elegant and "Illusions" by Segal; "Oliver's Story" by McDonald; and "Condominium" by McDonald.

Camera Club To Organize

By Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

There are more camera buffs around the Crawford-Roscommon area than one thinks. Just like every field of interest, people like to get together to talk about and share their experiences.

The first meeting of camera buffs is scheduled for Thursday, September 22, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the county building Roscommon. The meeting is open to anyone who is interested in taking pictures and talking about cameras. We plan to have one person show and tell at the organizational meeting.

Property Tax Deferment On Home Repair and Maintenance

The Mathieu-Gast Home Improvement Act (Public Act 293 of 1976) was ruled a valid exercise of the legislature's authority to provide for the determination of true cash value in an opinion issued by the Attorney General dated March 22, 1977. Act 203, P.A. 1976 requires that:

"The assessor, beginning December 31, 1976, shall not consider expenditures for normal repairs and maintenance in determining the true cash value of property for assessment purposes. In no event shall the amount excluded exceed $4,000.00 each year for not to exceed three consecutive years. The following repairs shall be considered normal maintenance if they are not part of a structural addition."

The Act then lists 15 specific repairs, replacements, or items of maintenance which are to be considered as normal maintenance. Each property owner desiring tax deferment for a period not to exceed the three years must file a form with the assessor of the township or city in which the property is located. This form must be filed on or before December 31 of the year in which the expenditure was made. Anyone may obtain a copy of the form from their township assessor or from the County Equalization Department.

New Staff Members For Mental Health Services

NEW STAFF MEMBERS—The North Central Michigan Mental Health Services has two new workers to assist in the offices of the center in this area. Tom Kessler, left, will specialize in emergency and crisis treatment while Dennis McDonald, right, takes over as director of the whole program. (Photo by Jean Scott Denley)

Increased demand for emergency mental health help in Crawford County, and an increase in mental health programs has led to the expansion of personnel in the office of the North Central Michigan Mental Health Services Board here.

An emergency and short term therapist and programs director for the Mental Health office in Grayling began duties July 1st.

Tom Kessler, a recent University of Michigan graduate with a masters degree in social work has been employed to handle emergency cases in the counties of Crawford and Roscommon, two counties of the four county district which also includes Wexford and Muskegon Counties. Dennis McDonald, was transferred from Cadillac's office to Houghton Lake as program director for the two counties.

McDonald said the significant increase in demand for services in the area, up to 4.3 and 4.5% of the populations of Roscommon and Crawford Counties, necessitated the changes.

Kessler's job will be to help people during emergency situations, and hopefully cut down the number of hospital admis-

Two Cents Worth....

By Rod Denley

Last week's column, like this one and all others, are always cranked out a week in advance which should answer all the queries about why I was writing about fallen leaves for gardeners last week. It ends up when the paper comes out there are more fallen trees laying around than fallen leaves!

With the ravages of the storm passed and most of the clean-up already done, we can all breathe a sigh and offer a word of thanks that the damage was so slight and the injuries non-existent. There are a lot of people who helped out during the whole mess and I will refrain from commenting on individuals and groups who helped out in the bad traffic accident that weekend, and in the aftermath of the storm. In a day and age where so many people say our society is deteriorating it was a wonderful thing to hear of so many neighbors working together to pull the town together. You all deserve a tip of the hat.

The other thing floating about my brain this weekend is the last meeting of the school board and my feelings about it.

I thought it was a pretty fine thing for the Concerned Citizens for Fair Taxation to make their generous offer to cooperate with the board on the next millage issue. I hope they will be as vocal in their support at election time, as they were in their statement of support at the meeting. They have made their point concerning unfair methods of taxation and I hope it will become a rallying movement that will see the many local groups together into one large one. One single group with the cooperation of the school board as the committee requested and many other local groups as well, may wag the dog that is in Lansing. The battle to change taxation methods lies in the capital and the issue must never be allowed to rest.

There were some comments about blackmail and "dictating of terms" aimed at the citizens committee that night, and that bothered me a little.

It seems to me like the group came to the meeting and made a generous offer to cooperate. Some people, to my way of thinking, had come to the meeting ready for a battle and did not even hear the proposal. The committee even acknowledged that the present system of taxation is unfair to not only children but teachers as well, since it continuously threatens their job security. They could have taken a very hardnosed line on this matter and made a lot of trouble instead of saying they will support a one year millage rate of 9.65 mills as they did that night.

Some people may have not liked the outcome of the last election but that is no reason to call it "blackmail" of the county. The point is that everyone has a chance to express their feelings concerning education simply by casting their ballot. The will of the people was heard in the last election. If it was not the will of the people, then an awful lot of "yes" voters did not bother to get out their ballots and cast their ballot. To say after the election that the results were not the true feelings of the people is hogwash. The vote was against and like it or not we have to live by the rules we play under. I am in favor of the highest possible level of education we can give our children. I personally feel it is the most important material thing a parent can spend money on for their children. More important than any car, motorbike, or toy I personally would like to see the best education system in the world right here in Crawford County. That is a private opinion, but from that you can understand how I feel about taxes for education. There are a lot of other things I would sooner see cut than education money.

However, outside of my feelings, I also strongly believe in the process we call DEMOCRACY. Inherent in that belief is the respect for the will of the people and if that will is for a one year election, then that is what it has to be. If we have an election and that is the result, then so be it. The place to complain is right at the voting booth after the election.

The only other point I would like to make is that it is a well known fact that the middle class are major tax payers in the county. We in the end pay for everything in the highest way. We have no tax shelters, fancy lawyers, and accountants to "read our minds" and disappear at income tax time. This bothers me a bit when I need to think about paying for schools on the basis of income tax. Right now the present tax system really hurts people with a moderate income or with large tracts of land.

What bothers me is that if the methods change to a flat tax, then a lot of potential taxpayers will slip away by the wayside and are finally figured out.

I think there should be a definite change in the system to aid those who are on low and limited incomes but it should not be to put an even greater burden on those already paying a higher tax. As one man said, "the chauffeur of a rich man pays more in taxes than the man he drives around. Maybe what is needed is a system based on a percentage of gross income" before it is too late for those convenient tax shelters.

Heroes

Richard Millman

Reluctant as I have always been to join movements, there's something to be said for hero worship.

What got me thinking was a News-week magazine essay called "Let's bring back the heroes" by someone named William J. Bennett, identified as executive officer of the National Humanities Center (whatever that is) and as a regular contributor to Commentary magazine (whatever that is).

Although the author didn't ring a bell with me, his message did. Mr. Bennett decries the lack of heroes for today's youth: and when you stop to search your own surroundings, I'll bet you find it true, too.

He cites a survey of 1,200 junior high school children who were asked: "Who is your hero?" The most frequent response was "none." Now, that's a real shame, when you stop to think about it, further down the list are such as rock stars and the bionic man or woman, and Evel Knievel, and that's a shame, too.

"For some reason, perhaps for no reason, many of us think it is not proper to have heroes; or worse, that there aren't any — or only shabby ones," Bennett says.

"We have become so interested in raking muck that we scarcely lift our eyes from it. Watergate, 'demystologizing,' phony sophistication, believing that every good action has an ulterior and crass motive, the rise of the anti-hero, and a variety of other forces have made the hero invisible to us."

Bennett argues that this trend is dangerous "because it puts children's ideals, aspirations and their notions of self-worth in jeopardy... children need to know what deserves to be emulated and loved and nurtured..." and, he continues, education is primarily responsible for passing on proper information about heroes and values.

Follow the Bennett argument just a bit further:

"In education, rather than squabble for innovation on the one hand and a return to basics on the other, we ought to encourage something that is both: an innovation and a return to the basics of aspirations.

There are some arguments that hero worship is needed

"Along with emphasis on sound arithmetic and spelling, even on sociology for the first-grader, we should tell some stories, true stories, about heroes. We should offer our students and ourselves some real examples, not only of human corruption, degradation and duplicity, but also of the qualities we think men and women can and should possess... This could be done even as students are taught to engage in the now honored practice of suspecting the motives of everyone else."

Mr. Bennett makes some sound and convincing arguments. A return to hero worship is needed, and I'll even join the movement.

Heroes need not be giants who walk the earth. Heroes are those who live exemplary lives, or perform exemplary deeds... heroes are those whom we would like to see our children, or our loved ones, copy. They can be found everywhere, if we would only look with an open mind. As William Bennett pointed out: "Every community, even Sodom and Gomorrah, has one individual in it who might be identified to students as worth admiring."

The pervasiveness of the media, especially television... the explosion of knowledge... the advance of technology... are just some of the factors that have combined to make us cynical and doubting. We downgrade the hero, perhaps because we know too much about him.

There is more to quality-of-life than economics and diet and sanitation; perhaps more important are the intangibles such as faith and hope and trust and confidence. That's where hero worship comes in.

"I think the time taken for this exercise (of identifying heroes) will be worth it," essayist Bennett concludes. "And it's possible that if we don't take the time, our children, taught as they have been no doubt, will live the consequences of not knowing what they may safely believe."

Let's bring back the heroes.

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee

Robert Beery of Ithaca, was a guest of his aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Marjorie Hanson last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baimave and sons Bill, Eddie and David of Livonia, were recent visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corbett at Lake Margrethe.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gill of Toledo, are at their cottage at McIntyre's Landing.

Mrs. Merle Pfundt of Bay City and her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Meis of Kalamazoo, were Labor Day weekend guests of Mrs. Clement Blaine. On Sunday they went to East Jordan to attend the graveside burial of the guests' sister, a former Gaylord resident.

Sally and LeRoy Papendick and Pat and Barbara Basile were taking a canoe trip on the AuSable, Sunday, September 4th, when the big storm hit. They pulled out of the river above Louie's Landing briefly then continued on down river to the cottage of Bud and Elaine Fischer of Flint, arriving soaking wet. The Basiles of Livonia, spent last week at their cottage at Lake Margrethe.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sullivan and children John, Kirsten and Matthew of Marlette, spent Labor Day weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sorenson.

Twenty-three members of St. Mary's Church walked the Mackinac Bridge on Labor Day. A group of senior citizens rode along to Mackinaw City as well and all enjoyed a picnic lunch at an area south of the bridge after the walk. They reported a fun time.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick went trailering to Grand Marais where they spent eight days. It rained most every day as it did here during that time.

Betty Jean McLeod is a new employee at the Avalanche office.

A sizeable flight of geese headed south over Grayling last Thursday, shortly after one in the afternoon. Seems rather early. Hope they don't know what they are honking about. Trees have been changing color for about two weeks as well.

Rod Denley spent the Labor Day weekend in Thessalon, sailing. No storm there!

Shaw Park Picnic Held

The residents of Shaw Park in Grayling enjoyed their First Annual Picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fetters. It is hoped this will become an annual event. Those who were present have homes here in Shaw Park: Edith Bailey, Ann Arbor; Oscar Trellis (guest at the Bailey's) from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; David and Sandy Bailey and children, Ann Arbor; Jim Bailey III, Indianapolis, Ind.; Wilma C. Sunday, Myrna Hissong, Higgins Lake; Stephen and Katherine Jennings, Hazel Park; Dorothy and Don Phillips; Jean and Don Hook, Midland; Lawrence and Eunice Smith, Pontiac; Jan Sullivan, Pontiac; Tom and Betty Bust, Chelsea; Vida Hoch, Bay City; Tom Haggert, Birmingham, Barbara and Robert Franklin, Tiffin, Ohio; Chris and Adeline Everhardus, Ann Arbor; Nat and Jon Rowe, Ann Arbor; Sandy and Bob Salisbury, Ann Arbor, and of course, the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fetters.

The food was very attractively served. Also there was an out-house race which was won by Sandy and Bob Salisbury. The prize was a plaque.

The picnic started at 2:00 p.m. and was outdoors. After two hours of social talk and plenty of wonderful food a storm started threatening. All picked up dishes, helped put everything away and left for their homes. No one got wet. Those in Shaw Park were very lucky Mother Nature left them alone this time. It is hoped that everyone can turn out again next year.

sions to the Traverse City State Hospital. He will also carry a small case load of short term cases, people needing mental help during a crisis situation.

The Houghton Lake and Grayling offices now have seven full time staff members. An emergency service for nights and weekends is also manned by the mental health services. For residents of Roscommon and Crawford counties, McDonald said they should call collect to 616-775-3463.

McDonald's transfer from Cadillac to Houghton Lake is an organizational change to help the programs at Houghton Lake and Grayling. McDonald said new programs and existing programs would be better served by his office at Houghton Lake.

Increased emphasis on adult foster care patients has been mandated by the state department of mental health. This mandate alone will cause additional staff loads and some program development.

Kessler will divide his time between the Houghton Lake and Grayling offices, while McDonald will maintain an administrative office at Houghton Lake and office hours here as well.

Editor's Mailbox

To all of you residents of Crawford County who voted "no" on the millage, I wonder how many of you really understood the proposal, and the consequences of its defeat.

I know from the various statements made by people of all age groups that many of you were badly misinformed. There were so many people at work to defeat the millage proposal for petty differences that the true need of getting it passed was overlooked.

It's obvious that we are in a state of near panic over our soaring taxes. I realize too how many of our senior citizens are not even able to keep their homes because of such high taxes and I certainly sympathize with them. For many, this struggle just to survive, so they are going to take advantage of any opportunity to cut their taxes.

Yes, I can understand your situation. No one has asked you how you would like your tax dollars used. You worked hard all your life and now you are unwillingly helping to support programs you do not believe in, such as A.D.C., food stamps, rehabilitation of prisoners, etc. So now you are faced with the school millage, and here is an opportunity where you can finally say "no" to what your taxes will be used for, and you are going to take advantage of it. No one can blame you for wanting to lighten your tax burden, but please give a serious thought to what the consequences may bring.

Depriving our youth of a good education is not the answer. Why not be fair and take a good long look at the young people in Crawford County, and how our former school system applied to them. You say there are many programs both academic and athletic that are not necessary... let them just stick to the good old 3 R's. Well just how far in this advancing world do you think these kids will go with just the "basic" so-called 3 R's. How many of you have taken time to go through the schools and familiarize yourselves with the programs offered and the num-

Hatfield - Wilcox Vows Spoken

Janet Hatfield and Arthur Gene Wilcox were united in marriage Saturday, August 20, at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church in Grayling. Rev. Paul Weber officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Condi Weber sang "Children of the Heavenly Father."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown with scoop neckline with beaded and sequined lace trim on the bodice and edging her chapel length train. Small seed pearls accented the neckline and cuffs of the bouffant Victorian sleeves. She carried a bouquet of yellow rose buds with white Stephanotis and babies' breath with flowing ivy.

Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Hatfield of Grayling. Arthur's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wilcox, Jr. also of Grayling.

Maid of honor was Teresa Wilcox, sister of the groom. She wore a dress of multi-color print on a medium and light blue background, with white lace. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Hatfield, sister of the bride, who wore a yellow dress; Connie Hatfield, another sister of the bride, who wore a mint green dress; Peggy Stephan, who wore a blue dress and Vicki Long, who wore a pink dress.

All the grooms were styled with square necklines and handkerchief sleeves with raised waistlines and sash ties with white lace trim. They each carried two mums as small starflowers to match their dress.

The flower girl was Patti Hatfield, who wore a light pink dress and carried a basket of daisies and pink flowers with white ribbon bows.

Starling Wilcox, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman were Richard Wilcox, Robert Hatfield, Ben Hatfield and Gene Anderson. The ring bearer was Scott Hogg. The men wore powder blue tuxedos.

Altar decorations consisted of white glads and yellow mums. The flowers were arranged by J & R Florists.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilcox chose a floor length gown of navy blue with a chiffon cape edged with lace. She wore a corsage of white and feathered mums.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Grayling with a buffet dinner being served and dancing to a band following. Robare Desorme of Mt. Pleasant, a friend of the bride, made the cake. It was a four double tier cake decorated with a light blue flower and water fountain in the center and a heart-shaped bride and groom topper.
